

Until death do they part...

Mary and Jackson are spending their one-year wedding anniversary in a remote luxury cabin. They married after a whirlwind romance, and soon after the wedding Jackson left for a nine-month work placement halfway across the globe.

With her husband back, Mary is determined to make her marriage a success. But everything begins to unravel when Mary reveals the truth about her past, and the secret that drove her family apart.

When a hike results in Mary almost falling to her death, suspicions she has about her new husband rise to the surface. Surrounded by forest for miles, Mary realizes she is totally isolated with a man she barely knows.

As Jackson's devotion transforms into something more sinister and her own mental state deteriorates under the pressure, Mary is left with only one question: Can she save herself before her husband loves her to death?
